~~Planning and design workshops were held in six locations across the river corridor. They provided an opportunity for stakeholders to work with planners and landscape architects, creating illustrations of their vision for the Greenway. A document including images and concepts will soon be available, according to the Pennsylvania Environmental Council.~~

Woodward's Laurelton Campus may open this summer

LEWISBURG – Laurelton Center may be open for business this summer. The owners, Gary Reams and Ed Isabelle, recently met with Union County Commissioners and made the request that the center be up and running for the summer camp season.

The facility will house an extreme sports camp and prep school. The search is on for an educational partner to help run the prep school. Additional plans include a 150-acre golf course, small hotel, 100,000-square-foot gymnasium and a 17,000-square-foot indoor skatepark and new swimming pool.
